BEV MCDEVITT

If you're sitting home today working on your calendar make sure you add Sunday, March 28th at 4:00pm to it. Beverly McDevitt and Joyful Jazz will be performing again at St Paul's Lutheran church in Reading, PA. That's right---Skip Moyer (Berks bassist), and Lehigh's own Michael Trach (sax, flute, clarinet, vocals) and Ken Smelko (percussion) are joining Bev again to help raise money for the Food Bank. For a mere $10 you will be entertained, tapping your toes, and who knows---maybe singing along to their jazzy renditions of some favorite tunes. Oh by the way...last year the church had some sweet delights for all guests in their social quarters!! YUMMY! Rumors have it that they are baking already for this year's crowd.

St Paul's Lutheran church is located at 1559 Perkiomen Avenue in Reading. This is at the corner of 16th Street and Perkiomen. If you need directions, don't hesitate to email---we'll send them to you!

Hope you can join us and support the Food Bank! You'll get treats for your ears and treats for your belly for being so kind!

Pediatric Cancer
Foundation of the Lehigh Valley, Inc.

Our foundation is hosting an 8K Run/5K Walk on March 20, 2010 in Whitehall at the Ironton Rail Trail beginning at 10 am (registration is 8-9). It will conclude around lunch time with food served etc. We had planned to have musicians along the trail, 3 in total. Currently 2 have had conflicts arise and we are down to 1 group. If any students are interested in supporting this cause, please contact Nicole Ronco directly at 610-393-9215. There will be a small stipend to cover gas, etc., and all that would be involved would be to play any type of music along our course. We can provide electric if necessary or it could be unplugged.
