

Voices and Choices Center Archives (Pre-2008)

Not necessarily reflective of current Rohrbach Library policies

Campus Support: Liaison librarians can be called on to work with a particular group or academic program in information gathering, collection development, information literacy instruction, building tours, and an array of other library-related needs. We place ourselves in a position to collaborate campus-wide and system-wide with initiatives of cultural applicability.

Examples of current collaborations:

- Serving on university-wide committees such as the Commission on Human Diversity, Commission on the Status of Women, Women's Studies Board, and the ADA Task Force
- Serving as members of the Latino Caucus, the GLBT task force, etc.
- Serving as allies (to student members of GLBTQ organization, Allies)
- Working with the campus Multicultural Studies program as an advisory board member, instructor, and an information literacy resource
- Working with the university's Multicultural Center
- Working on the biennial diversity festival
- Working with Kutztown University's and the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education's Frederick Douglass Institute
- Collaborating with campus initiatives such as with the College of Education on commemorating the Brown versus the College of Education decision.
- Working with the University's September 11th remembrance programs ...