CDC FAST FACTS

Career Certificate Programs

KU students have the opportunity to participate in two professional development career certificates that guide students to become stronger, more confident and successful as both undergraduate students and future employees.

First Destination Career Outcomes (from graduation to six months)

74% of bachelor degree graduates were either employed or furthering their education.

Veterans/Military

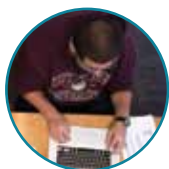

KU is a nationally-recognized military friendly school attracting military members and veterans with numerous skills and experiences. Military friendly employers are promoted to these students.

KU CDC has been a strategic partner for Enterprise by providing us with a multitude of opportunities to interact with students, faculty, and alumni. Whether it is an etiquette dinner, networking event, mock interviews, or a career fair, we have always had a positive experience and an overwhelming amount of support from the CDC to engage students."
