PART A - RECOGNITION DECISION

SPA decision on national recognition of the Program:
○ Nationally recognized
○ Nationally recognized with conditions
○ Further development required OR Nationally recognized with probation OR Not nationally recognized [See Part G]

Test Results (from information supplied in Assessment #1, if applicable)
The program meets or exceeds SPA benchmarked licensure test data requirement, if applicable:
○ Yes
○ No
○ Not applicable
○ Not able to determine
Comments, if necessary, concerning Test Results:
Aggregated data supports the benchmark licensure test data requirement. However, data are miscalculated in one sub-area, 5154 English / Soc. Science, as 79.1%. The sub-area should be 73.76% (or 74% when rounded to the nearest whole number). This error recalculated then resets the aggregated benchmark licensure test data composite score as 79.3% (or the sum of 5152 averaged with the sum of 5156, 5157, and 5158).

Summary of Strengths:
See previous report.

PART B - STATUS OF MEETING SPA STANDARDS

Standard 1: Young Adolescent Development

Middle level teacher candidates understand, use, and reflect on the major concepts, principles, theories, and research related to young adolescent development and use that knowledge in their practice. They demonstrate their ability to apply this knowledge when making curricular decisions, planning and implementing instruction, participating in middle level programs and practices, and providing healthy and effective learning environments for all young adolescents.

Element a. Knowledge of Young Adolescent Development:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate a comprehensive knowledge of young adolescent development. They use this understanding of the intellectual, physical, social, emotional, and moral characteristics, needs, and interests of young adolescents to create healthy, respectful, supportive, and challenging learning environments for all young adolescents, including those whose language and cultures are different from their own.

Element b. Knowledge of the Implications of Diversity on Young Adolescent Development:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate their understanding of the implications of diversity on the development of young adolescents. They implement curriculum and instruction that is responsive to young adolescents’ local, national, and international histories, language/dialects, and individual identities (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition). They participate successfully in middle level practices that consider and celebrate the diversity of all young adolescents.

Element c. Implications of Young Adolescent Development for Middle Level Curriculum and Instruction:
Middle level teacher candidates use their knowledge of young adolescent development when planning and implementing middle level curriculum and when selecting and using instructional strategies.

Element d. Implications of Young Adolescent Development for Middle Level Programs and Practices:
Middle level teacher candidates apply their knowledge of young adolescent development when making decisions about their respective roles in creating and maintaining developmentally responsive learning environments. They demonstrate their ability to participate successfully in effective middle level school organizational practices such as interdisciplinary team organization and advisory programs.

Comment:
The EPP indicates Assessments 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, and 7 provide evidence for Standard 1.

Assessment 1 provides evidence for Standard 1. Standards and elements are aligned to Praxis assessments. Data demonstrates proficiency.

Assessment 2 provides some evidence for Standard 1. Element b is not addressed by Assessment 2. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 3 provides some evidence for Standard 1. Elements a and c are not addressed by Assessment 3. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.
Assessment 4 provides evidence for Standard 1. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 6 provides limited evidence for Standard 1. Elements a, b, and c are not addressed by Assessment 6.

Assessment 7 provides some evidence for Standard 1. Elements a and c are not addressed by Assessment 7. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Standard 1 is met.

Standard 2: Middle Level Curriculum

Middle level teacher candidates understand and use the central concepts, standards, research, and structures of content to plan and implement curriculum that develops all young adolescents’ competence in subject matter. They use their knowledge and available resources to design, implement, and evaluate challenging, developmentally responsive curriculum that results in meaningful learning outcomes. Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate their ability to assist all young adolescents in understanding the interdisciplinary nature of knowledge. They design and teach curriculum that is responsive to all young adolescents’ local, national, and international histories, language/dialects, and individual identities (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition).

Element a. Subject Matter Content Knowledge:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate a depth and breadth of subject matter content knowledge in the subjects they teach (e.g., English/language arts, mathematics, reading, social studies, health, physical education, and family and consumer science). They incorporate information literacy skills and state-of-the-art technologies into teaching their subjects.

Element b. Middle Level Student Standards:
Middle level teacher candidates use their knowledge of local, state, national, and common core standards to frame their teaching. They draw on their knowledge of these standards to design, implement, and evaluate developmentally responsive, meaningful, and challenging curriculum for all young adolescents.

Element c. Interdisciplinary Nature of Knowledge:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate the interdisciplinary nature of knowledge by helping all young adolescents make connections among subject areas. They facilitate relationships among content, ideas, interests, and experiences by developing and implementing relevant, challenging, integrative, and exploratory curriculum. They provide learning opportunities that enhance information literacy (e.g., critical thinking, problem solving, evaluation of information gained) in their specialty fields (e.g., mathematics, social studies, health).

Comment:
The EPP indicates that Assessments 1, 2, 3, and 4, provide evidence for Standard 2.

Assessment 1 provides evidence for Standard 2. Standards and elements are aligned to Praxis assessments. Data demonstrates proficiency.

Assessment 2 provides evidence for Standard 2. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 3 provides some evidence for Standard 2. Element a is not addressed by Assessment 3. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 4 provides evidence for Standard 2. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.
Standard 2 is met.

Standard 3: Middle Level Philosophy and School Organization

Middle level teacher candidates understand the major concepts, principles, theories, and research underlying the philosophical foundations of developmentally responsive middle level programs and schools, and they work successfully within middle level organizational components.

Element a. Middle Level Philosophical Foundations:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate an understanding of the philosophical foundations of developmentally responsive middle level programs and schools.

Element b. Middle Level Organization and Best Practices:
Middle level teacher candidates utilize their knowledge of the effective components of middle level programs and schools to foster equitable educational practices and to enhance learning for all students (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition). They demonstrate their ability to apply this knowledge and to function successfully within a variety of school organizational settings (e.g., grades K-8, 6-8, 7-12). Middle level teacher candidates perform successfully in middle level programs and practices such as interdisciplinary teaming, advisory programs, flexible block schedules, and common teacher planning time.

Assessment 4 provides evidence for Standard 3. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

The Program did not note in its application that Assessment 6 addresses Standard 3, but this is indicated in the assessment document. Assessment 6 provides evidence for Standard 3. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 7: In its application, the program indicated Assessment 7 provides evidence for Standard 3. This appears to be a clerical error as evidence is provided by Assessment 6, rather than Assessment 7.

Standard 3 is met.

Standard 4: Middle Level Instruction and Assessment

Middle level teacher candidates understand, use, and reflect on the major concepts, principles, theories, and research related to data-informed instruction and assessment. They employ a variety of developmentally appropriate instructional strategies, information literacy skills, and technologies to meet the learning needs of all young adolescents (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition).

Element a. Content Pedagogy:
Middle level teacher candidates use their knowledge of instruction and assessment strategies that are especially effective in the subjects they teach.

Element b. Middle Level Instructional Strategies:
Middle level teacher candidates employ a wide variety of effective teaching, learning, and assessment strategies. They use instructional strategies and technologies in ways that encourage exploration, creativity, and information literacy skills (e.g., critical thinking, problem solving, evaluation of information gained) so that young adolescents are actively engaged in their learning. They use instruction that is responsive to young adolescents’ local, national, and international histories, language/dialects, and individual identities (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition).

Element c. Middle Level Assessment and Data-informed Instruction:
Middle level teacher candidates develop and administer assessments and use them as formative and summative tools to create meaningful learning experiences by assessing prior learning, implementing effective lessons, reflecting on young adolescent learning, and adjusting instruction based on the knowledge gained.
Element d. Young Adolescent Motivation:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate their ability to motivate all young adolescents and facilitate their learning through a wide variety of developmentally responsive materials and resources (e.g., technology, manipulative materials, information literacy skills, contemporary media). They establish equitable, caring, and productive learning environments for all young adolescents.

Comment:
The Program indicates Assessments 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 provide evidence for Standard 4.

Assessment 1 provides limited evidence for Standard 4. Standards are aligned to Praxis assessments, but not at the element level. Data are not presented in a way that demonstrates alignment of results to standards or elements.

Assessment 2 provides some evidence for Standard 4. Element c is not addressed by Assessment 2. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 3 provides evidence for Standard 4. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 4 provides evidence for Standard 4. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 5 provides some evidence for Standard 4. Elements a and b are not addressed by Assessment 5. Rubric indicators are aligned to element c and data is presented at the element level.

The program indicated in the application that Assessment 6 addresses Standard 4. Assessment 6 provides no evidence for Standard 4 as it is not referenced in the document.

Assessment 7 provides limited evidence for Standard 4. Elements a, c, and d are not addressed by Assessment 7. Rubric indicators are aligned to the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Standard 4 is met.

Standard 5: Middle Level Professional Roles

Middle level teacher candidates understand their complex roles as teachers of young adolescents. They engage in practices and behaviors that develop their competence as middle level professionals. They are informed advocates for young adolescents and middle level education, and work successfully with colleagues, families, community agencies, and community members. Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate positive dispositions and engage in ethical professional behaviors.

Element a. Professional Roles of Middle Level Teachers:
Middle level teacher candidates understand, reflect on, and are successful in their unique roles as middle level professionals (e.g., members of teaching teams and advisors to young adolescents).

Element b. Advocacy for Young Adolescents and Developmentally Responsive Schooling Practices:
Middle level teacher candidates serve as advocates for all young adolescents and for developmentally responsive schooling practices. They are informed advocates for effective middle level educational practices and policies, and use their professional leadership responsibilities to create equitable opportunities for all young adolescents in order to maximize their students' learning.
Element c. Working with Family Members and Community Involvement:
Middle level teacher candidates understand and value the ways diverse family structures and cultural backgrounds influence and enrich learning. They communicate and collaborate with all family members and community partners, and participate in school and community activities. They engage in practices that build positive, collaborative relationships with families from diverse cultures and backgrounds (e.g., race, ethnicity, culture, age, appearance, ability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, family composition).

Element d. Dispositions and Professional Behaviors:
Middle level teacher candidates demonstrate positive orientations toward teaching young adolescents and model high standards of ethical behavior and professional competence. They are continuous, collaborative learners who demonstrate knowledgeable, reflective, critical perspectives on their teaching.

Assessment 2 provides some evidence for Standard 5. Elements b and c are not addressed by Assessment 2. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 4 provides evidence for Standard 5. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 6 provides some evidence for Standard 5. Elements a and c are not addressed by Assessment 6. Rubric indicators are aligned at the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Assessment 7 provides some evidence for Standard 5. Elements a and b are not addressed by Assessment 7. Rubric indicators are aligned to the element level and data are presented at the element level.

Standard 5 is met.

PART C - EVALUATION OF PROGRAM REPORT EVIDENCE

C.1. Candidates’ knowledge of content
Candidate data in Assessments 1 and 2 demonstrate proficiency of content knowledge.

C.2. Candidates’ ability to understand and apply pedagogical and professional content knowledge, skills, and dispositions
Candidate data in Assessments 3, 4, 6, and 7 demonstrate proficient pedagogical knowledge and professional content knowledge, skills, and dispositions.

C.3. Candidate effects on middle level student learning
Candidate data in Assessment 5 demonstrate positive impact on student learning.

PART D - EVALUATION OF THE USE OF ASSESSMENT RESULTS

Evidence that assessment results are evaluated and applied to the improvement of candidate performance and strengthening of the program (as discussed in Section V of the program report)

See previous reports.

F.2. Concerns for possible follow-up by the CAEP site visitors:
NA

PART G - DECISIONS

Please select final decision:

- National Recognition. The program is recognized through the semester and year of the provider's next CAEP accreditation decision in 5-7 years. The Recognition Report will serve as program level evidence for the accreditation cycle it has been initiated. To retain recognition and to gather new evidence for the next accreditation cycle, another program report must be submitted mid-cycle 3 years in advance of the next scheduled accreditation visit. The program will be listed as Nationally Recognized through the semester of the next CAEP accreditation decision on websites and/or other publications of the SPA and CAEP. The institution may designate its program as Nationally Recognized by the SPA, through the semester of the next CAEP accreditation decision, in its published materials. Please note that once a program has been Nationally Recognized, it may not submit another report addressing any unmet standards or other concerns cited in the recognition report.
