

Student Learning Outcome (SLO) #7: Demonstrate an understanding of various models for the development of the whole self.

Definition: Students identify best practices for self-development in areas such as finance, wellness, spiritual well-being, academic success, and professional motivation. Life skills and life-long learning are emphasized.

This SLO is met in General Education FYS – Discovering College and the First year Seminar Course.

		Performance Levels
		4	3	2	1
Student output and quality of work		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifies complex models to assist in self-development in a variety of areas Accurately translates a model's process and procedure to their own situation Effectively applies model to current situation Accurately evaluates the current and displays consideration of future success of the model after implementation Adjusts model to reflect self-awareness of success and failures. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifies basic models to assist in self-development in a variety of areas Translate most of the a model's process and procedure to their own situation Applies model to current situation Adequately evaluates the success of the model after implementation Makes some adjustments to the model to reflect some self-awareness of success and failures. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognizes models to assist in self-development in some areas when model is provided Transfers a model's process and procedure to a hypothetical situation Applies model to parts of their current situation Reviews the success of the model after implementation Needs some direction to adjust model to reflect self-awareness of success and failures. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Unable to identify appropriate models to assist in self-development in a variety of areas Cannot transfer a model's process and procedure to a situation Does not make the connection between model and their own situation Unable to evaluate the success of the model after implementation Unable to adjust model to reflect awareness of success and failures.