Message from the Dean

The year 2015 is a big one for the College of Business and Kutztown University. Two important accreditations may be achieved and new degree minors are expected to be put into operation. As of September 1, the Department of Business Administration (DBA) submitted its substantial Self-Evaluation Report to the AACSB (Association to Advanced Collegiate Schools of Business). We are expecting a peer review team visit on March 1-4, 2015 and, if the team is satisfied with what they find on the visit, then we will gain accreditation in April when the AACSB has its annual meeting.

Meanwhile the Department of Sport Management and Leadership Studies is working on earning accreditation with COSMA (Commission on Sport Management Accreditation). It is possible that this would occur sometime in Fall 2015. We expect to have a university-wide minor in entrepreneurship available for KU students beginning in 2015-16. The COB is playing an important role with the leadership of Duane Crider in moving this minor forward. Steps in the DBA are being taken to create a minor in Supply Chain Management and Logistics that may be available as of 2015-16. Also, the DBA is working on a program to assist students prepare to become Certified Financial Planners.
Michael Grossman gave a presentation on Tuesday, October 28th, 2014, in the Academic Forum, Room 201. Michael is Senior Vice President of Television and Network Operations at World Wrestling Entertainment. He received his degree in Telecommunications from Kutztown University in 1985. Michael's career began in Wilmington, DE, producing corporate television for E.I. DuPont. After discovering a love for editing, he began freelance work at EJ Stewart, a production house in Philadelphia, where he eventually joined their staff. Michael also gained experience in technical directing and later moved to freelance editing and technical directing until he was recruited by WWE to edit their flagship programming.

Throughout his 26-year career at WWE, Michael has been promoted through the ranks from Editor to his current position as SVP, where he oversees Technical Operations of WWE’s production studio in Connecticut, domestic and international field production, and the recently launched WWE network. His career accomplishments include technical oversight of projects including WWE’s HDTV conversion, SFL Football League, WWE NY Times Square Entertainment Facility, and the WWE Network.

Richard Yuengling was born and raised in Pottsville, PA. He graduated from Pottsville High School in 1961 and attended Lycoming College in Williamsport, PA for one year. During high school and college, Dick spent his summers in various labor jobs throughout the plant. He served six years (from the late 1960's to early 1970's) in the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Dick worked at the plant until 1973 when he left the brewery and bought his own beer distributorship in Schuylkill County. He served that county with Pabst Blue Ribbon, Rolling Rock, and Carling Black Label brands, learning the wholesaler side of the business firsthand.

In 1985, Dick bought the family business from his father who had become ill. At that time, the brewery was selling 137,000 barrels of beer.

Since those early days, the brewery has grown twenty times in size, reaching a milestone 2.8 million barrels of production and celebrating its 185th Anniversary this year. It has three production facilities – two in Pottsville, PA and one in Tampa, FL. Yuengling has grown to become a regional favorite, distributing beer in 18 states along the East Coast from New England down to Florida.

DBA Internships

Qualifying for an Internship for Credit
You may qualify for an internship if you:

- Have, or will have, 60 credits completed by the beginning of the term in which the internship will occur.
- Have, or will have, completed the business core with a QPA of 2.0 or better.
- Have, or will have, an overall QPA of 2.0 or better.

Once you have decided on a type of internship, you should select your faculty supervisor of the internship. This is the person who will make sure your internship application packet is complete, work with you during your internship, set expectations for your reporting on your internship, and submit the grade for your internship.

The Internship Application Packet is available in the Department of Business Administration in deFran, Room 233 or online at http://www2.kutztown.edu/academics/colleges-and-departments/business/departments/business-administration/internships.htm

Below is a list of the internship application deadlines. If you have any questions regarding internships, please call 610-683-4580 or stop by the department office to speak to Dr. Roger Hibbs, Dept. Chair.

Growing up, Professor Cebula always wanted to be a prosecutor or a politician, so she completed her undergraduate work in Political Science and Justice at American University. While she was still interested in politics, she interned for two members of the House of Representatives and the DC City Council. She got to go on the floor of the House of Representatives and also got to tour the West Wing of the White House. She has pictures to prove the West Wing visit, though none of the Oval Office because she did not want to get arrested.

While at American, she took a class called “Sports and the Law” from the school’s compliance officer and thought that would be a good career move as it combined her love of sports and her love of the law. After graduation, she went to work in the Compliance Office in the Athletics Department at Villanova University. A major investigation by the NCAA prompted her to go to law school. She earned her Juris Doctor from Marquette University Law School and a Certificate in Sports Law from the National Sports Law Institute of Marquette University Law School. While at MULS, she was a member of the Marquette Sports Law Review and served as a research assistant to Professor Paul Anderson, Associate Director of the NSLI. She also

Ms. Leslie Scroble
College of Business, Dean’s Office

Leslie A. Scroble started working for Kutztown University in 1995 with Dr. John Schellenberg in The Center for the Enhancement of Teaching. Leslie then worked in ACT 101 for Gail Craig then began working in the Health and Physical Ed Department (now Sport Management and Leadership Studies). Leslie recently began working in the College of Business Dean’s office for Associate Dean, Dr. Martha Geaney.

Leslie graduated in 2011 with a BS in General Psychology and Minor in Women's Studies. She is also a Fiber artist, member of Wool Whisperers Rug Hooking Guild Of Gwynedd Pennsylvania and National Association of Traditional Hooking Artists. Leslie is also a member of Quakertown Area Dulcimer and Autoharp Society – a group of folks that get together to play Mountain and Hammered Dulcimer and Autoharp.

Leslie is an Amateur Mycologist and member and newsletter editor of East Penn Mushroomers Club, which involves spending a lot of time in the woods in search of wild edible mushrooms.

Leslie has 2 children and 1 granddaughter, Lily who is 3. Her daughter is expecting twins in the beginning of the year, and Leslie is looking forward to her trip to Las Vegas to visit her daughter and family when the twins are born.

served as a legal intern with the Wisconsin State Fair Park, where she tried to figure out who owned the railroad tracks that run through the park, and the Pettit National Ice Center, where she wrote liability waivers for Cream Puff Curling. After graduation, she returned to college athletics, serving various roles in the Compliance Office at the University of Delaware until she came to Kutztown in the fall of 2012.

Professor Cebula has lived in four states and one district and visited 23 others. She has also traveled to Canada, Ireland and the United Kingdom. She now lives in Pottstown with her dog, Mater, and her tortoise, Torpedo. Her dream is to tour the Houses of Parliament in London and to take a ride on the Orient Express.

Professor Cebula is a huge fan of all Philadelphia sports, even in bad times. She is also a huge Villanova and Marquette fan, but roots for Villanova whenever they play each other. On the weekends, she can generally be found watching cars go fast, whether they are stock cars or open wheeled.

Leisure and Sport Studies Scholarship

The LSS Scholarship is based on financial need, including the applicant working to assist in the funding of his/her education, personal commitment to sports and physical activity, and demonstrated ethical behavior. Below are the two winners for the Department of Sport Management and Leadership Studies.

The first recipient of the Holly Siegfried Memorial Scholarship for the 2014–2015 academic school year is Kelly Quigley. Kelly is pursuing her BSBA in business with a major in accounting and a minor in finance. This scholarship will provide Kelly $250 for the fall semester to use towards books and tuition.

The Holly Siegfried Memorial Scholarship was established by Josh and Brielle Albright through the KU Foundation in memory of Holly Siegfried. Both Mr. and Mrs. Albright are recent alumni of KU. Mr. Albright also participated in AIM while at KU. To be eligible for this reward the Albright’s thoughtfully specified that:
- It would go to a KU student currently enrolled at KU;
- Who is pursuing a finance major;
- Who has maintained a GPA of 3.5 or higher; and
- Is a member of the AIM team.

Dr. Jonathan Kramer and Dr. John Walker were pleased to announce this scholarship was awarded to Kelly Quigley in order to recognize her high level of performance she has achieved here at KU and her participation in the AIM Program. Congratulations Kelly!

Tyler's career goal is to become an Athletic Director.

Congratulations to both Cody Snyder and Tyler Kurtz!
The College of Business Advisory Board met on Monday, September 8th 3pm, MSU 322. Dean Dempsey provided updates for AACSB progress. COB Student Representatives, Katherine Irace and Kelsey Greth introduced themselves to the Advisory Board and discussed what accreditation means to the business students, D2L and Connections.

At 6:00pm many of the board members participated in the “Speed Networking – Freshmen Event”. Dean Dempsey provided a welcome to the attendees and Jack Gottlieb, COB Advisory Board Member, gave a 20 minute power point presentation to engage students - asked them questions and reviewed information for the topics to be discussed at the tables, "Speed Networking". Faculty participating switched tables every five to eight minutes. Students expressed their appreciation to faculty and board members for providing such a great program. Light refreshments were provided to the students who attended.

Welcome International Exchange Students!

Heidi Hansen

My name is Heidi, I am a graduate student on exchange semester here in Kutztown. I come from Denmark where I lived most of my life and also study and work. By the end of the semester, I will go back to Denmark and write my master thesis, which will be the final part of my Danish MBA in Management and Leadership. Once I finish I will pursue a job as a Product Manager or a Business Development analyst. To prepare for this job I am currently employed in Denmark as a Graduate Assistant in a Product Management department.

My personal interests are handball, skiing, hiking and running, so you will find me in the fitness center most days when I am not in class. I love traveling and getting to know new cultures, which is one of the main reasons for me being here. I went to Hong Kong to do a part of my bachelor degree and traveled through China, Macau, Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines during my stay there, all of these cultural inputs taught me a lot. Due to my central position in Europe, I have traveled in many countries within Europe as well, though I still have many more places to see.

Desislava Panteleeva

My name is Desislava and I am an exchange student here in Kutztown University of Pennsylvania for one semester. My home country is Bulgaria, but I am doing my Master’s in Business Administration with a minor in Accounting and Finance in Denmark. This is my third semester and after I return to Denmark I need to write my master thesis. I would like to work in the field of accounting or finance.

I like dancing, running, hiking and traveling. This is my second time in the United States. The first time I was on a Work & Travel program from my bachelor university in Bulgaria. I was in Big Sky, Montana. That is the most beautiful place on earth for me. The nature and the sights are just breathtaking. I traveled around Montana and to Yellow Stone Park, New York, Alexandria and Washington D.C. I have traveled around Europe as well- Romania, Germany, Sweden, and Denmark. Whenever I can I like spending time traveling around my home country. I would like to see more countries and cultures. On my bucket list is to visit New Zealand, Australia, Mexico, and South Africa.

ELC Entrepreneurial Leadership Center

The Entrepreneurial Leadership Center will be launching the 2014 Business Idea Competition. Interested faculty are asked to encourage students to consider a submission either as an individual or as a team. Team members need not be from the COB. Students are encouraged to find teammates from across the various curriculums that would complement the business proposals. This competition is open for entries until November 5th at which time the competition will be narrowed and those remaining will be invited to present to members of our elite Board of Advisors who have volunteered to judge this year’s competition. For more information visit: http://kutztownelc2014.istart.org/

AMA had a Guest Speaker on Tuesday October 21, at 11am in DF 116 from ADP to discuss; resume building, networking and sales positions available with ADP. Snacks & Refreshments were provided!

The main goal of KU AMA is to provide an important platform for students to grow both personally and professionally. We encourage our members to get involved in multiple fundraising events that facilitate exposure to the marketing world. This includes: guests speakers, webcasts, conferences, and trips to many fun places.

Supply Chain Management Business Logistics Club

Faculty Advisor:
Dr. Gary Chao, DF 222, chao@kutztown.edu

The Supply Chain Management & Logistics Club provides business students who are interested in supply chain management and/or logistics with the opportunity to meet with other students who express the same interest. Members of the club regularly hold meetings to discuss current news relating to SCM.

Members can also gain information about supply chain management by attending club events including question and answer sessions with guest speakers, fundraisers, and trips to local logistics companies. The Supply Chain Management & Logistics Club hopes to attract students who plan to pursue the Supply Chain Management Certificate offered by the KU Business Administration Department; however, all business students within the DBA, regardless of specialization, are welcome.

The club held the following activities in Fall 2014: an Informational session on 10/15 in DF 210 and an Alumni Guest Speaker presented on 10/29 in DF 210.

The upcoming activities for Fall 2014: 11/11, Tuesday, 11 AM, DF 215

Guest speaker: Transportation Management

The Supply Chain Management and Logistics Club visited Penske on August 18, 2014. Four faculty members, two students and one university officer joined this trip.
